President Sends Nomination to the Senate With Those of Beaupre and Spencer Eddy-Wants the Subject Dropped-Berlin Thinks the Secret Is Out.

WASHINGTON, March 31.-The end of the German-American incident arising from the reported opposition of Emperor William to Dr. David Jayne Hill, was, officially announced to-day with the transmission to the Senate of Dr. Hill's nomination as Ambassador to Germany. Charlemagne Tower, the present American Ambassador at Berlin, has sent in his resignation to take effect June 1, and it has been accepted.

With Dr. Hill's name the President sent to the Senate the nominations of Arthur M. Beaupre of Illinois to be Minister to the Netherlands and Luxemburg, succeding Hill, and of Spencer F. Eddy of Illinois to be Minister to the Argentine Republic, succeeding Beaupre. Mr. Eddy is now secretary of the embassy at Berlin.

On account of the great reticence on the subject observed in official circles and the desire of President Roosevelt and his advisers to have the subject dropped and forgotten it cannot be learned in any authoritative way whether Mr. Tower's resignation was tendered as a result of the embarrassing incident arising from his telegram to the State Department that there was "opposition" to Dr. Hill on the part of the Kaiser. A few days ago it was said in official quarters that Mr. Tower had never resigned formally, so that his resignation seems to have been cabled since the Hill incident was begun. Mr. Tower's resignation appears to have been a voluntary act on his part, however, although the date set for his retirement is earlier than that mentioned by him in a previous communication. He indicated then that he would remain in Berlin until August. The setting forward of the date appears to have been due to a desire on the part of the Administration and Mr. Tower to give Dr. Hill the opportunity of presenting his credentials to the Emperor without any great delay in order to emphasize that there was and is not the slightest objection on the Emperor's part to receiv-

The Hill incident is ended, the officials declare, and nothing has come to light to indicate that President Roosevelt holds Mr. Tower in any degree responsible for what has occurred. Too much idle gossip on the part of prominent members of the society set in Berlin is given as the basis for the supposed opposition to Dr. Hill. BERLIN THINKS THE TRUTH IS KNOWN.

BERLIN. March 31.-All America and Europe now so well knows the truth of the lamentable episode concerning the American Ambassadorship here that the only excuse for a further reference to it is the extraordinary outburst of comment by the German press to-day. The organ of the Conservatives of the Extreme Right declares that whoever suggested doubts of Dr. Hill's suitability did the Kaiser a bad service, as the utterance of such doubts might have easily disturbed the friendly relations with the United States which he

The radical Berliner Tageblatt says the idea should not be raised that Germans find an empty skull more pardonable than an empty purse and that the saying of King Philip that an ass laden with gold can jump over any wall must not come to its realization in this country.

LONDON, April 1.-The Telegraph, concluding a long editorial on the Hill-Tower-Kaiser-Berlin-Embassy situation, says: "Any State in the future will find it well worth while to provide its representatives abroad with ample means when its Ambassadors do not possess wealth of their own. A State's prestige to be real must be expressed in visible terms.

It then refers to Whitelaw Reid, the American Ambassador here, saying: "It would be idle to ignore the fact that as the occupant of Dorchester House, with its conspicuous air of princely dignity and stateliness, he possesses a complementary and commanding kind of influence." +

London Police Arrest Desperate Crook for Visiting Banks Too Much.

Special Cable Desputch to THE SUN. LONDON, March 31.- The police have arrested on suspicion a man giving the name of George Edwards, who was observed calling at banks. He was remanded. He is believed to be Eddie Guerin, the notorious American thief.

Eddie Guerin is the crook who was at one time sent to Devil's Island for a bank France and who escaped from here. England refused to extradite him because he was born under the British flag in Canada. A man named Smith and a woman known as "Chicago May" Churchill attempted to murder Guerin London last June. They were arrested Smith was sentenced to penal servitude for life and the woman received a sentence of fifteen years penal servitude.

POLITICS AND CARNIVAL.

Cubans and Gov. Magoon Busy-Marriage of a Queen.

Special Cable Despatch to Tun Sun. HAVANA, March 81 .- The Municipal Council of Cienfuegos has unanimously voted to annul the aqueduct contract held by Mr. Ryley and to either call for new bids or have the city itself, aided by the State, do the work. Gov. Magoon has the power to overrule the council's decision, but he will probably refer the matter to Washington.

A deputation of the Conservative party visited Gov. Magoon to-day to inform him regarding the constitution of the party. The rumors that the Conservatives will coalesce with the Zayista faction of the Liberal party are now discredited. It is believed the Conservatives will put a full ticket of their own in the field.

Senor Guerreras, a delegate from Saniago, submitted to the party a plank pleading that the Conservatives stand for complete independence and for the securing of such an interpretation of the Platt amendment as will prevent in the future intervention by the United States in the affairs of Cube except to support the existing Government. This was modified by the convention, the party recognizing that at present it was impossible to secure complete independence or any modification of the Platt amendment.

A committee of the Havana Municipal Council is still studying the plans for the sewering of the city that were forwarded by Gov. Magoon.

The Carnival Queen visited Gov. Magoon o-day to invite him to her wedding tomorrow and incidentally to ask for a job for her father and sundry pardons. Gov. Magoon, the Mayor and other high officials will attend the wedding, which will take place in the most fashionable church here.

GOMEZ ELECTED AGAIN.

Expelled Philippine Agitator Chosen a Second Time to the Assembly.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. MANILA, March 31 .- Dr. Dominador Gomez, the anti-American agitator who was expelled from the Assembly on February 11 last by a vote of 40 to 35, was returned to the Assembly from the First district of Manila to-day to fill the vacancy made by his expulsion. His majority was between 400 and 500, and the result was not unexpected, as he has many supporters.

Members of the Assembly generally excress indignation that Gomez should again present himself and declare that he will ot be seated. Justo Lukben, who was defeated by Gomez in the first election and again in the second vote, will protest. It is probable that the matter will be disposed of forthwith.

The Governor-General and the Commisioners are in the mountains to escape the hot weather, but the Assembly is in session here and will take recess from April 4 to

The old question of Gomez's citizenship came up when his candidacy was announced, but was settled as far as the election board had authority by the production of a certificate of residence.

THURN AND TAXIS SUES.

Libel Charge Against Woman Who Says She's His Wife.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, March 31.-Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis has brought suit against Josephine Moffitt, the former American showgirl, and the Daily Express because of an interview published in which Josephine Moffitt alleged that she was the Prince's wife and that he married and left her in America, where she is afraid to return because of the Prince's many creditors.

The interview further set forth that she had come to England to give the Prince an opportunity of meeting her unmolested by money lenders. The case is to be heard

The troubles of the young woman who called herself Mrs. Taxis and who said she married the Prince of Thurn and Taxis by clasping hands across a table and exchanging troths, became public in this city on July 12 of last year, when she went to a newspaper and announced that the Prince, her husband, had disappeared after a quarrel with her. She managed to keep before the public pretty well from that time on. First there was a pin which the Prince was said to have bought for $300 on credit and which somebody pawned. Her lawyers had some trouble to prove that she had nothing to do with the pawning, and a lot of love letters said to have been written by the Prince to her were pub-lished as an incident of the court hearings for the recovery of the trinket by the jewel lers. Next the furniture of the young woman's rooms, at 480 Park avenue, were seized for a bill of $500 that the Prince left unpaid. She sailed for Europe on March 19. declaring that she would look up the Prince and if necessary carry her grievances to the Emperor of Austria.

Mrs. Taxis, as she called herself, was formerly Miss Josephine West, a native of Jacksonville, Fla. She confessed to being 20 years old. She appeared on the stage in vaudeville and as a showgirl in some Shu-bert productions as Josephine Moffitt. She had been married previously, she alleged, to William W. A. Pike, said to be the son of a rich Chicago man. That also was a "hands across the table" wedding. Pike's parents refused to recognize it and the couple separated. A court in which she sued for support refused to recognize it.

Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis belongs

o a younger branch of a great German and Austrian house. They are mediatised princes. That is, they rank with sovereign houses but have had no dominions since the early part of the last century. Victor came here with letters to leaders of New York society in April, 1906. He was generally received and was present at many notable functions. It was said that he was looking for an American wife.

ABRUZZI WEDDING IN ITALY To Be Very Private-Roman Papers Rant Over American Ones.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, March 31 .- The Rome correspondent of the Globe says that the Italian newspapers have initiated a violent campaign against the proposed marriage between the Duke of the Abruzzi and Miss Katherine Elkins. This change of attitude is simply and solely due to the "extravagances of American journalism," against which a stream of indignation is poured out daily. Even the Elkins family is not spared, the newspapers taking the ground that they should have taken steps to shield the Duke from "outrage and insult." The Globe's correspondent learns that the provisional arrangements for the marriage have been altered owing to the King's wish that it should be celebrated in Italy. It will be absolutely private.

VIDAYER IS TWICE INDICTED

ON CHARGES OF EXTORTION IN HAMILTON BANK CASE.

Jackson Will Move To-morrow to Have the Presentment Affecting His Integrity Growing Out of the Same Bank Case Expunged and Not Sent to Albany.

Two indictments were filed yesterday by the Grand Jury against Nathan Vidaver. who was one of Attorney-General Jackson's special deputies. The indictments are for attempted extortion, and Vidaver will be arraigned this morning before Judge Foster of General Sessions.

The Grand Jury finished its investigation of the Vidaver case yesterday afternoon. The witnesses examined were Frederick W. Searing, William R. Montgomery, ex-president of the Hamilton Bank, and Detective Norman J. Fitzsimmons of the District Attorney's office, who arrested Vidaver.

The testimony before the Grand Jury was about the same as that brought out at the hearings before Magistrate Herrman on the extortion charge made against Vidaver by Montgomery. The first indictment is based on the charge that Lawyer Moses Grossman for Montgomery paid $500 to Vidaver. The second indictment relates to the $500 in marked bills which were handed to Vidaver by Montgomery in the Astor House on the day of Vidaver's arrest. Montgomery swore at the police court nearings that he believed that the money he paid was to go to Attorney-General Jackson. It was in the office of Mr. Searing, Montgomery says, that he and Vidaver and Grossman talked over the payment of $1,500 to prevent any criticism of Montgomery as head of the Hamilton Bank coming from the Attorney-General's office, and Searing advised against the payment of the money until "the goods had been delivered."

Attorney-General Jackson will make a motion in General Sessions to-morrow forenoon to have removed from the record the presentment made by the Grand Jury that his integrity has been questioned and that the testimony taken before the Grand Jury in relation to bank receiverships and other affairs of his office ought to be sent to the Governor and the Legislature "for action." Mr. Jackson appeared before Judge Foster of General Sessions yesterday and announced that he intended to make the motion. Judge Foster said he would he said. "I do not know what evidence has been presented to the Grand Jury. The Grand Jurors are not lawyers or Judges. But I will say this: The Grand Jury makes a false statement when it says that there was a conflict of testimony. There was no conflict of testimony. An erroneous report was made after Frank White had appeared before the Grand Jury. There may have been some difference as to minor details, but there was no conflict of testimony."

That being the case, why not have it all come out," some one suggested.
"How do I know what the others testified to?" asked Mr. Jackson. "I want this to be a public hearing, where I can con-front the witnesses, where I can look at them and where legal evidence will be

THE GREETERS UNDER WAY Hotel Clerks' Club in the Victoria Annex Is Opened.

If you dine in hotels you would have seen them all last night at the first reception and housewarming of the Greeters. The Greeters is made up of the knights of the glad hand, whose vocation is hotel clerking or hotel treasurering, or those that have anything to do with the business end of hotel work except owning the hotel.

Hotel proprietors were there aplenty. however, to help housewarm the new clubhouse, which takes up the entire Hotel Victoria Annex at 1146 Broadway. Sim Ford was supposed to make the happy speech of the evening, but couldn't get on the job, and sent his regrets. Neither did President Roosevelt get around, although invited. Gov. Hughes sent a very pretty letter, in which he regretted that he couldn't be there, either; but the affair was pulled off beautifully, despite the distinguished list of absentees.

Had they come there wouldn't have been room for them anyway. All available space early was taken up by George C. Boldt of the Waldorf, Edward H. Tierney of the Marlborough, John A. Jepson of the Monticello, Copeland Townsend of the Imperial, Col. Hurlburt of the Grand, James Green of the Endicott, Frank Case of the Algonquin, Fred B. Reed of the Park Avenue, James McDonald, John Conway and James Brennan of the St. Regis; Bill Allen, who gets out almost all the hotel writing paper that we all drop in to borrow on oc Arthur Eager, proprietor of Martha Washington, and six or seven other brain directors of his hotel, all men; E. H. Manning of the Touraine, and in fact most

The Greeters are only about five weeks old altogether, but already they have three floors of clubhouse in the heart of the hotel district, and the floors are stocked with perfectly good polar bear rugs, mission furniture, mahogany tables, pictures, pool and billiard tables, statuary, mirrors and ounches of other things. Practically all of the trimmings that stuck out occasionally last night between the potted plants, flags, sandwiches, bottles and musicians were donated by Mr. Boldt, Mr. Muschenheim, . Charles Davis, Frank Brobst, George V Sweeney and others interested in the new club, and furthermore you could learn from Clinton Gardner that these and still others have sent in amiable checks to help

Mr. Boldt made a little speech in which he warned the Greeters against factionalism and politics in their club councils and in which he spoke of Mr. Tierney, who followed him, as "the silver talking mug of the Hotel Men's Association." The silver talking mug also had wholesome advice to offer the knights of the glad hand, and the state afterward there were flashlights, more champagne cup, music and still more c pagne cup for a long, long time. President C. C. Nobles of the Gilsey House presided.

Shriners Dine Where Others Don't. 777 The Mystic Shriners of Mecca Temple had a banquet last night in one of the rooms at Madison Square Garden where some of the circus animals are on exhibition. There were 2,000 of the Shriners at the annual monthly meeting in the concert room of the Garden and a large number of them sat down at the tables among the cages. Two bears, a lion and a tiger or two were allowed to see the feast, but at a late hour none of beasts had taken an active part in it.

BOY SHOOTS BOY FOR REVENCE.

Runs a Long Way, but Surrenders "Because Murderers Always Get Caught." ORANGE, N. J., March $1 .- Alfred McGrath, 16 years old, of 237 South Ninth street, Newark, is lying dangerously wounded in the Orange Memorial Hospital to-night and Ralph Marasoo, one year his junior, who lives at 65 Sixth avenue, Newark, is a prisoner at Police Headquarters, East Orange, where he confessed that he shot the McGrath boy because the latter got a job he wanted. After the shooting Marasco ran as far as the Lackawanna station in Orange. There he concluded it was not worth while to run away, because, as he said, "murderers always get caught somehow or other." So he hid his pistol and retraced his steps inquiring the way until he reached Police Headquarters, where he gave himself up, aying:

"I'm the boy what shot the kid. I done it because I had a grudge against him for getting my job."
Marasco was taken before Chief of Police

Bell and readily told his story. He said that about a week ago he saw an advertisement in a newspaper which said that a boy was wanted at the haberdashery store W. S. Roberts, 835 Broad street, Newark He applied for the place, but just about the same time McGrath appeared and was engaged. Marasco felt he would surely have got the job if McGrath had kept away and he became very angry and swore that he would have revenge.

He stole his father's pistol, of .38 calibre, and carried this about for several days, watching McGrath's movements, until fin-ally this evening he saw him walk up Broad street with a bundle to be delivered in East McGrath boarded a trolley car and Marasco jumped on a truck to follow. At Walnut street, East Orange, McGrath alighted from the car and walked north. Marasco followed, and with the revolver in his pocket he walked up to McGrath and asked what time it was. McGrath turned to answer and Marasco fired at him through the pocket, the bullet striking the boy just above the heart. It travelled around a rib and lodged in the back near the spine. Shouting a taunt at the fallen boy Marasco ran away.

The police, who had taken young McGrath to the hospital, were searching for the assallant when he surrendered The revolver was recovered later in the evening under a tool box near the railroad station, where the boy had hidden it. McGrath's father is a policeman in and Expects to Get Off Soon. The Austrian steamship Carolina, from Trieste, Fiume, Venice and Oran, grounded off the Blue Point life saving station on Fire Island Beach in thick weather last evening When the fog lifted a bit she was seen by a patrolman, who burned a signal to indicate o Capt. Parovich of the Carolina that his plight had been seen and that assistance was at hand. The sea was smooth and the life savers went out to the steamship in a surf boat and learned that the skipper, his crew and ten passengers did not want to be taken off.

THE CAROLINA AGROUND. Steamship Hits Fire Island Beach Easily

Capt. Parovich said he had been groping in the fog sometime and had lost his reckoning. He had taken ground easily and was not leaking. He had the impression that he might be able to get off with assistance at high water this morning. He sent a despatch ashore by the life savers to Phelps Bros. Co., his agents, telling of his mishap. The Merritt-Chapman Wrecking Company started the steamer Relief iown to the Carolina at 11 o'clock last night If the wind does not rise and blow on shore the chances of the Carolina getting off without damage are good, from the viewpoint of the wreckers. The Carolina has a general cargo, including a large quantity of fruit. She belongs to the Unione Austriaca di Navigazione of Trieste. She is a new steel ship of 3.029 tons. Her last port of call was Cran, whence she sailed on March 17. She was until recently in the trade between New Orleans and the Adriatic and Mediterranean.

WOMEN DEBATE AT COLONY CLUB. Three Speak for and Three Against Giving Votes to Their Sex.

ot a single chair in the rose and gold assembly room of the Colony Club was vacant yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Richard Aldrich, Mrs. Hariot Stanton Blatch and Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt unfolded to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the Duchess of Mariborough, Mrs. William K. Vanderbiit, Jr., Mrs. Clarence Mackay, Mrs. John Jacob Astor and Mrs. Humphry Ward and two or three hundred others, the fifty-seven reasons why women should vote. The arguments of Mrs. Catt and Mrs. Blatch and Mrs. Aldrich seemed so incontrovertible that no one would have blamed the Duchess and Mrs. Vanderbilt and the rest of 'em if they had become a little confused when Mrs. Barolay Hazard and Mrs. Edward Bissell and Mrs. Francis Scott successively took the floor and advanced an array of arguments that were apparently so obvious as to be practically axiomatic in support of the assertion that the granting of franchise to women would have no good feature.

Mrs. Aldrich devoted the twenty minutes allotted to her to a recapitulation of the numerous advantages that would accrue to the State if women had a hand in making the laws. Mrs. Hazard, who also talked twenty minutes, accused the Suffragists of being allied with Socialists, and cited in support of her assertion the fact that Maurice Hilquitt had spoken for the Suffragists before the Judiciary Committee of the Legislature.

Mrs. Blatch said in rebuttal that Mr. Hilquitt had called her up on the 'phone the day before the hearing and asked permission to speak at the audience with the Governor, of which she had charge. She replied, she said, that there would be no time for him, but that if he wanted to speak the Senate chamber he could apply to the committee which had charge of the arrangements. She met Mr. Hilquitt, Mrs. Blatch continued, the next morning on the train, and learned from him that he had obtained permission to speak in the Senate chamber from a member of the legislative committee.

Mrs. Bissell detailed at some length the horrors that would ensue if the negro women of the South and the immigrant women from eastern Europe were allowed to go to

FRAUD CHARGED TO RAILROAD.

State Alleges That Illinois Central Has Hidden Taxable Gross Receipts. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 31.-Charges of fraud against the Illinois Central Railroad Company are contained in the amended bill for an accounting to the State of Illincis in the suit instituted by Gov. Deneen.

It is alleged that the company has omitted many receipts in its semi-annual statement to the executive department, which purports to show that it pays into the State Treasury 7 per cent. of its gross earnings. The bill probably will be filed this week in the Circuit Court of La Salle County. Among the many accusations those regard to the methods in vogue at the Cairo bridge at Cairo and the Dunleith and Dubuque bridge at Dubuque, across the Mississippi, are particularly specific. For the purpose of milking the charter lines, upon which i per cent. of the gross earnings should be paid to the State in lieu of taxation, it is alleged in the bill that every statement made by the company in regard to the traffic on these and other lines is false and fraudulent and made with the sole purpose of mulcting the State. It is charged that at the Cairo bridge toll is collected for the bridge upon every pound of freight shipped either way, over the charter line, the bridge being owned absolutely by the Illinois Central Railroad Company, under a separate charter organisa-tion. The State claims title to its share in one-half the bridge earnings, but alleges that under the system in vogue it is de-

Instances are cited to show that often a haul over the charter line from Cairo to Chicago earns less than a haul across the bridge. Fourteen million nine hundred and ninety-five thousand four hundred and forty-one dollars was deducted from the Illinois Central earnings since the opening of the Cairo bridge in June, 1890, to October 31, 1906, in the way of bridge

Thus the Illinois Central was charged $2,407,058 for bridge tolls at Cairo in the year ending October 31, 1906, and the Mobile and Ohio, the same year, paid $213,140 for the use of the bridge, making the total earnings approximately $2,700,000 for that year. Before any of this amount was paid into the State Treasury, the bill charges, one-half of the sum of $14,985,441 was deducted from the earnings of the charter ines, and no accounting ever was made Similar practices are alleged to be in vogue at the Dubuque bridge. Altogether it is claimed that a total of on back payments.

DINNER TO CAPT. VIVIAN, Who Made Records 25 Years Age as Skipper of the Black Ball Line. More than a hundred friends of Capt. Charles Vivian gathered at Fraunce's Tavorn last night to celebrate by a dinner the silver anniversary of Capt. and Mrs. Vivian's wedding. Capt. Vivian before he gave up the sea was one of the skippers of the "Black Ball" line. He now lives in Islip and the focale bell of the old Hamilton Fish, the ship from which the Black Ball pennant was last to flutter down, is hung on his grounds there and sometimes is used as a fire alarm. Capt. Vivian forsook the sea in 1883, when he married. It was at this time that he made a record with the Joseph B. Thomas, of which he was skipper. He made the trip from New York to Liverpool, oaded and returned in 39 days.

In his sailing period he saw more than the of the Sunrise, which according to some sailormen, holds the records for the worst mutiny and the ship of the hardest luck that ever sailed under any flag.

Messenger and Robbed Safe. NEWTON, Kan., March 31.-William T. Carr, a resident of Newton, was arrested here this evening charged with the murder of Oscar A. Bailey, messenger, and the robbery of the express car on a Santa Fé train early Sunday morning.

Carr did not seem surprised when arrested and made no resistance. The billiard hall of his father-in-law, where he was arrested. was searched and many articles of jewelry were found. They were identified by ex press company officials as articles taken from the safe of the robbed ear. A further search revealed a cigar box containing $993 in currency under the floor. Carr had been suspicioned from the first. It was learned in Kansas City that he made inquiries at the Union Station last Saturday as to what train Bailey would depart on as messenger.

The clue that led directly to Carr's arrest was found this morning. He left a pair of trousers with splashes of blood on them at a cleaning shop. The officers were notifled and a warrant was issued for his arrest Carr is 28 years old and has lived in New ton ten years. He was an express measur-ger for three years. He is married and has a child a year old. He has borne a bad repu-tation here and has been under arrest several times.
